

Imagination Jar

SPARK YOUR CHILD'S IMAGINATION

CRYSTAL J. WAGNER

The imagination jar provides ideas to spark a child's imagination.

Print the pages onto card stock paper. Cut the cards apart and place into a small jar. When a child is bored or cannot think of a way to pretend play, have him pull a card from the jar. He can use the suggestion on the card to create an imaginary adventure. Or, it may spark an idea of something else he wants to play.

It may be helpful to have some items on hand that will facilitate imaginative play such as dress-up clothes, wooden blocks, dolls or action figures, musical instruments, etc.
